The gritty, hard-edged song, which McCartney still performs live today, benefits from McCartney's screaming vocals, creative, octave-infused bass line especially during Lennon's portion of the song and Harrison's tasteful bends and double stops during McCartney's raucous bridge. Producer lists George Martin.

Harrison described this doo-wop-styled rock to Rolling Stone as "atypical".
I've got a feeling, a feeling deep inside Oh yeah, oh yeah
I've got a feeling, a feeling I can't hide Oh no, no, oh no, oh no Well I've got a feeling. Retrieved 23 February McCartney wrote the section that gave the song its I've Got a Feeling Lennon's contribution was originally called Everybody Had A Hard Year, and had previously been demoed during the White Album sessions.

The Beatles' most beloved kiddie song was written for—who else? Main Writer: McCartney Recorded: March 17 and 20, Released: June 2, Not released as a single "She's Leaving Home" was inspired by a newspaper story about a well-to-do year-old girl named Melanie Coe who disappeared from her parents' home in London.
