Baptists have been well-served by a straightforward soteriology rooted in the fact that Christ is willing and able to save any and every sinner. This movement is committed to advancing in the churches an exclusively Calvinistic understanding of salvation, characterized by an aggressive insistence on the "Doctrines of Grace" "TULIP" and to the goal of making Calvinism the central Southern Baptist position on God's plan of salvation. Albert Mohler Jr. As sheep-shearer is not a pastor's shepherd. This old article from the Evangelical

What a task it must present to the gender hardliners – having to check the gender of who is in charge, all day long. I don't mind our seminaries teaching about Calvinism, but it should not be the exclusive theological position taught in any of our schools.

Utter and complete chaos which cost the men of that church a lot of money and time. Christ, lived the life of obedience that the Father demanded of us but that we could not live, and He died the death that the Father required of us as sinners, though He Himself was without sin. I believe that unity is an attainable goal but only when Calvinists cease trying to reform traditional SBC churches to their views.
